N°	Title	Author(s)	Organization(s) / Publisher	Publication year	Topic: W/ FS/ EN/ NR/ DRR ¹	Content
1	Pacific Gender and Climate Change Toolkit – Tools for Practitioners (Draft), Module 2.2: Water, Climate Change and Gender	B. Leduc, K. Bernard, K. Duaibe, L. Cleary, M. Manley, and P. Leavai	SPC, UNDP, UN Women, GIZ, SPREP	2013	W	Module on gender and climate change and water. Contains many practical examples and case information , including insightful information on whether and how a gender lens should be applied. Its use is not limited to the Pacific. Case material: - Tuvalu (water storage systems and IWRM) , p. 32, 34
2	Women at the frontline of climate change: Gender risks and hopes: A Rapid Response Assessment	C. Nellemann, R. Verma, and L. Hislop (eds)	United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), GRID-Arendal	2011	W, FS	Clear and compact report on gender and climate change. Includes a specific section on issues in mountainous areas , and another section on the link between water-related disasters and trafficking . Contains useful and easily understandable graphs/diagrams. Case material: - India, Nepal, China and Bangladesh (integrated in main text)
3	Climate Change, Gender and Development in Africa	A. Nabalamba, M. Mubila, and P. Alexander	African Development Bank (AfDB)	2011	W, FS	Overview of gender and climate change from an economic perspective , with a focus on Africa . Containing, among others, a diagram indicating gender division in agriculture for all African countries (p. 11).
4	Pacific Gender and Climate Change Toolkit – Tools for Practitioners (Draft), Module 2.1: Food Security, Climate Change and Gender	B. Leduc, K. Bernard, K. Duaibe, L. Cleary, M. Manley, and P. Leavai	SPC, UNDP, UN Women, GIZ, SPREP	2013	FS	Module on gender and climate change and food security. Contains many practical examples and case information , including insightful information on whether and how a gender lens should be applied. Its use is not limited to the Pacific. Case material: - Palau (food systems resilience) , p. 21 - Fiji (strengthening food security) , p. 24 - Micronesia (coastal fisheries management) , p. 26
5	Gender and Climate Change Research in Agriculture and Food Security for Rural Development (Training guide)		FAO, CCAFS	2013	FS	Oriented towards research; contains a comprehensive toolbox (module 3) and other information that can be useful for gender analysis .
6	Farmers in a Changing Climate: Does Gender Matter? – Food	Y. Lambrou, and S. Nelson	FAO, Rome	2010	FS	Research report on gender, climate and food security in Andhra Pradesh, India. Focus on men's and women's perceptions, experiences, coping strategies and

	Security in Andhra Pradesh, India					reliance on institutional support. Case material: - India (Andhra Pradesh)
7	Climate Change: Beyond Coping: Women Smallholder Farmers in Tajikistan		Oxfam	2011	FS	Research report on female farmers insights in and responses to climate change in Tajikistan. Case material: - Tajikistan
8	Gender Equality and Food Security—Women’s Empowerment as a Tool against Hunger		Asian Development Bank (ADB)	2013	FS	Publication on gender and food security, discussing climate change as one of three crises (the ‘ ecological crisis ’). Contains a number of recommended country-level and project-level strategies.
9	Transforming Gender Relations in Agriculture in Sub-Saharan Africa, Chapter 9: Climate-Smart Agriculture and Beyond	Farnworth, C., Fones Sundell, M. Nzioki, A., Shivutse, V. and Davis, M.	Swedish International Agricultural Network Initiative SIANI	2013	FS	Chapter on gender and climate-smart agriculture , including many practical examples and recommendations. Case material: - Bangladesh, Ghana and Uganda (testing of a range of participatory research tools for addressing gender and climate)
10	A Gender Strategy for Pro-Poor Climate Change Mitigation (CCAFS Working Paper no. 36)	D. Edmunds, J. Sasser, and E. Wollenberg	CGIAR Research Program on Climate Change, Agriculture and Food Security (CCAFS). Copenhagen, Denmark.	2013	FS, NR	Report proposing a gender strategy for climate change mitigation and low emissions agriculture . Case material: - Honduras (agricultural technologies and gender) , p. 57 - Ghana (climate change on the national agenda) , p. 61 - Kenya (Grassroots Organizations Operating Together in Sisterhood – GROOTS and climate) , p. 65
11	A gender policy framework for UNCCD		IUCN Gender Office and UNCCD (United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification)	2011	FS, NR	Report on gender and combating desertification .
12	Gender, Agriculture and Climate Change (Module 17 of the Gender in Agriculture Sourcebook) - Sourcebook module - E-learning course slideshow		The World Bank, IFAD and FAO	2009	FS, NR	Module including sample indicators and a good, extensive list of guidelines and recommendations for practitioners. Case material: - Ethiopia (innovative activity: MERET project) , p. 18 - Ghana (innovative activity: land conservation and smallholder rehabilitation project) , p. 21
13	Scoping Study of Good Practices for Strengthening Women’s Inclusion in Forest and Other Natural Resource Management Sectors		UNREDD, WOCAN, USAID, LEAF	2013	NR	Investigation of challenges preventing women’s inclusion in natural resource management (REDD+) in Asia-Pacific, including presentation of good practices from other cases (p. 13-16). Case material: - Various countries, focus on Asia-Pacific: India, Nepal, Sri Lanka,

						Philippines, Thailand, Indonesia, Cambodia, Papua New Guinea, Lao PDR (brief descriptions of good practices)
14	Gender and Biodiversity (Fact sheet)		UNEP / Convention on Biological Diversity	2010	NR	Very compact gender and biodiversity fact sheet.
15	Biodiversity, Gender and Climate Change (Fact sheet)		Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD)	2009	NR	Fact sheet on gender, climate and biodiversity . Contains some interesting ‘fast facts’.
16	Pacific Gender and Climate Change Toolkit – Tools for Practitioners (Draft), Module 2.3: Energy, Climate Change and Gender	B. Leduc, K. Bernard, K. Duaibe, L. Cleary, M. Manley, and P. Leavai	SPC, UNDP, UN Women, GIZ, SPREP	2013	EN	Module on gender and climate change and energy. Contains many practical examples and case information , including insightful information on whether and how a gender lens should be applied. Its use is not limited to the Pacific.
